Quyen Ta is a high-stakes trial and complex civil litigation lawyer with a nationwide practice focusing on consumer class actions, business disputes, and international and U.S. arbitrations. Her clients include both publicly traded and venture-backed companies in various industries and regions throughout the world.

Ms. Ta serves as lead counsel in numerous consumer class action matters in state and federal courts. She regularly handles litigation involving statutes as varied as California's Business & Professions Code Sections 17200 and 17500, Florida's Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act (FDUTPA) and the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA). Ms. Ta has defeated billions of dollars in consumer claims through favorable settlements, dispositive and class decertification motions, and many other strategies.

Her practice also includes advising on complex business and civil disputes before U.S. state and federal courts, as well as domestic and international arbitral tribunals, on behalf of clients in the energy, financial services, life sciences and health care, manufacturing, technology and other sectors.

Ms. Ta has achieved trial victories and successful settlements in intellectual property, trade secrets and employment mobility cases related to semiconductor, integrated circuit, micro-lending and mobile device technology. She also has obtained defense verdicts and secured other resolutions in matters involving significant claims of breaches of contract and confidentiality and alleged violations of the False Claims Act and Anti-Kickback Statute.

She is chair of California Gov. Gavin Newsom's Bay Area Judicial Advisory Selection Committee.

Ms. Ta has been named a Top 100 Lawyer, a Top Woman Lawyer and a Top Trade Secrets Lawyer in California by the Daily Journal. She was also recognized as a Woman Leader in Tech Law for Litigation as well as a California Trailblazer by The Recorder, and a Lawdragon Leading 500 Lawyer in America. In 2023, she received the Dale Minami Impact Award from the Asian American Bar Association of the Greater Bay Area, the Vanguard Award from the Alliance for Asian American Justice and the Judge Learned Hand Award from the American Jewish Committee of San Francisco. In addition, in 2021, Ms. Ta was honored with the Thought Leadership Award at Corporate Counsel's Women, Influence & Power in Law conference.
